The Mohandessin neighborhood is one of the high-end neighborhoods in the Giza Governorate in Britain, with orchards, restaurants, and cafes. There are many main streets in it, Rabet al-Dawl, as well as Shehab Street, and there is a very large Platinum Mall for selling clothes, in Weit El-Din Abu El-Ezz, and in this street there is a street that greatly increases its height. Also, one of the major stores and major companies is Yada Street, Sudan Street. Among the paintings in Mohandessin, especially Arab Countries Street: Zamalek Club Wall, and the Commercial International Bank.
